

Leonelys Sanchez Camacho
Violin

Born on 12 October 1994. I started to study violin at the age of 9 years old at the Conservatory of Music of Coro (Venezuela) with the teachers: Mileyde Valera and Frsnscisco Díaz.

Then I moved to the city of Caracas to study at the Academia Latinoamericana de Violín with the maestros Sergio Celis and José Francisco del Castillo.

I started my orchestra career in the "Sistema Nacional de Orquestas de Venezuela" where I participated in 2007 and 2009 in the "Orquesta Nacional Infantil de Venezuela" conducted by maestro Gustavo Dudamel.

Then in 2012 I joined the Orquesta Juvenil Teresa Carreño de Venezuela, conducted by maestro Christian Vázquez. With this orchestra we made international tours to countries such as: Germany, China, France, Japan, Turkey, Sweden, among others.

I have received master classes with important international maestros such as: Natalia Gvozdetskaya, Ericka Dobosiewicz, Rob Stephian and Maxim Vengerov.

I currently live in Mexico City where I play in the first violin section of the Orquesta Juvenil Eduardo Mata and where I also completed my violin improvement studies with Natalia Gvozdetskaya Ovchinnikova, where I am in the process of graduating.
