

David Reyes Bonilla
Bassoon

Born on 14th September 2000, in the city of Ibagué. In 2006 he began studying at the Institución Educativa Técnica Musical Amina Melendro de Pulecio de Ibagué; in 2011, he began his bassoon studies with the maestro Jaime Cuellar, who motivated him to complement his studies and so he entered the music school of the conservatory of Tolima in 2013 until 2017, the same year in which he finished his musical bachelor's degree.

In February 2017, he participated in two calls for merit for young musicians between 13 and 17 years old, being selected; the first call to form the Colombo-French Youth Symphony Orchestra and travel to Paris in June/2017 and the second to form the Youth Symphony Band of Colombia in Bogota, during November 2017.

In 2018 he started studying at the National University of Colombia, to become an instrumental musician with emphasis on bassoon, receiving training from maestro Jorge Jaramillo.

Jorge Jaramillo, currently in his tenth semester.

In the year 2021 he was part of the Orquesta Filarmónica Joven de Colombia and that same year, he applied to be part of the Banda Filarmónica de Bogotá, so until now he has been a member of the orchestra.
